

In keeping with TRC Call to Action #59,
St. James' Anglican Church, Kingston ON invites you to join an online Lenten program
Thursday evenings, 7:00 pm ET
February 15 – March 21

- 3 week discussion and review of “Truth Telling, Seven Conversations About Indigenous Life in Canada” – Michelle Good *

“A collection of essays about the contemporary Indigenous experience in Canada. From resistance and reconciliation to the resurgence and reclamation of Indigenous power. Michelle Good explores the issues through a series of personal essays.” Michelle is a Canadian author, well known through her novel “Five Little Indians.”

- book study will be followed by 3 weeks of perspectives from Indigenous people through dialogue or films.

To register, contact sharon@stjameskingston.ca
Zoom link sent each week

Support for Reconciliation Ministry made possible through the Diocese of Ontario Reach & Stretch Grant Program.

* A copy of Michelle’s book is required for discussion; available through local bookstores, libraries or online

“When one lives in a society where people can no longer rely on the institutions to tell them the truth, the truth must come from culture and art.” John Trudell